Guiding Principles

- The health, safety and wellbeing of the child is paramount: This approach ensures that the child is kept as the central focus and that the staff and school consider what is in the best interests of the child at all times
- All children have equal rights to protection and safety, with no exceptions: In line with the values inherent in the UN convention on the Rights of the Child \(1990\).
- All Maria International Staff are expected to share these commitments and share equal responsibility to act on any suspicions or disclosures that suggest a child is in harm
- Students and Staff involved in Child Protection issues will receive appropriate support

Introduction

Child abuse refers to physical, emotional, or sexual harm inflicted on a child. Although child abuse can sometimes take the form of specific actions, such as hitting, it is also possible for inaction to cause harm, as in the case of neglect. Current data suggests that more than half of the world's children, around 1 billion, have experienced some form of violence in the last year and cases of neglect have been increasing. Due to the day-to-day interactions that staff have with students, Maria International staff are uniquely positioned to observe changes in children's behaviour and/or appearance and also the outward signs of abuse. Children are more likely to turn to an adult that they trust in school when they are feeling distressed or at risk. Therefore, it is vital that our school staff are alert and trained to notice the signs of abuse and understand the procedures that must be followed to report their concerns.

The staff at Maria International, in line with our commitment to student safety and welfare, follow the following core safeguarding principles:

- Maria International staff and the school organisation place the safety and welfare of all students as its main priority
- Safe and happy children are more successful learners
- Representatives from all areas of the Maria International community are involved in policy review and development
- Policies reviewed annually will be written using relevant and up-to-date data and research.

Legislation

Section 175 of the UK Education Act 2002 requires Local Education Authorities and the governors of maintained schools and further education (FE) colleges to make arrangements to ensure that their functions are carried out with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children.

Section 157 of the same act and the Education (Independent Schools Standards) (England) Regulations, 2003 require proprietors of independent schools (including academies and city technology colleges) to have arrangements to safeguard and promote the welfare of children who are students at the school. 5 Current UK guidance is taken from the UK Department for Education (DfE) document: (1) Working Together to Safeguard Children (2018) updated December 2020 and (2) Keeping Children Safe in Education (2021).

Terminology

- Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children refers to the process of protecting children from maltreatment, abuse or neglect, preventing the impairment of child's health or development, ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care, and undertaking that role so as to enable all children to have optimum life chances.
- Child Protection refers to the processes undertaken to protect children who have been identified as suffering or being at risk of suffering significant harm
- Staff refers to all those working for or on behalf of the school, full time or part-time, in either a paid or voluntary capacity.
- Child refers to all young people who have not yet reached their 18th birthday.
- Parent/Guardian refers to birth parents and other adults who are in a parenting role, for example, step-parents, foster carers and adoptive parents

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

- Recognising that challenging behaviour could be an indicator of abuse
- Reading, understanding and adhering to Maria International's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and other related guidance on wider safeguarding matters
- Asking student permission, when possible, before doing anything for them of a physical nature, such as assisting them in dressing, providing physical support, or administering first aid
- Maintaining appropriate standards of communication and interaction with and between students
- Avoiding the use of sexual or derogatory language
- Being aware that the personal and family circumstances and lifestyles of students could lead to an increased risk of abuse

Support For Those Involved In A Child Protection Issue

Maria International aims to ensure that we support student's, their families and Maria International staff who become involved in a child protection issue by:

- Taking all suspicions and disclosures regarding Safeguarding, Child Protection and other issues seriously
- Nominating a link person who will keep all parties informed and be the central point of contact
- Where a member of staff has become the subject of an allegation made by a student, separate link people will be nominated to avoid any conflict of interest
- Responding with sympathy to any request made by staff or students for time out or off to deal with anxiety or distress
- Maintaining confidentiality and discretion when sharing sensitive information
- Storing records safely and securely
- Offering details of any relevant helplines, counselling, agencies and avenues of support
- Following the procedures in the Maria International Whistleblowing Policy, Maria International Concerns and Complaints Policy and other relevant Maria International policies
- Cooperating fully with any relevant statutory agencies

Complaints Procedures

Where a Maria International student or parent raises a concern about poor practice towards a student, the Maria International Complaints and Concerns policy and procedures will be followed. Poor practice includes unfairly singling out a student, using sarcasm or humiliation as a form of control, bullying or belittling a student or discriminating against them in some way.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

Complaints are managed by senior staff and the Headteacher in accordance with this policy. Complaints from staff are dealt with through the Maria International Complaints and Concerns policy and through disciplinary and grievance procedures. If the concern raises safeguarding issues rather than poor practice, then the Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and procedures should be followed.

Child Protection Procedures

Key Points

All Maria International staff are required to report any suspicions of child abuse or neglect to the Designated Safeguarding Lead or the Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead as soon as possible.

If a child informs any member of the Maria International staff that they are being abused or neglected, it is important for the staff member to know how to respond and react:

- Be available
- Be amenable
- Listen carefully and at the child's pace
- Avoid too many questions
- Take what is said seriously
- Reassure the child that they were right to tell someone
- Tell the child that the information has to be passed on
- Make a careful, written record of what was said verbatim
- Complete a record of the concern
- Report to the Designated Safeguarding Lead as soon as possible

It is important that the following NEVER happens:

- Take photographs or physically examine a child
- Investigate a disclosure or allegation
- Make promises to the child
- Speculate or accuse anyone
- Forget to record what was said
- Fail to pass the information to the appropriate person
- Disclose information to colleagues, friends or family. Information should be shared on a need-to-know basis

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

If You Suspect A Child Is At Risk Or Experiencing Harm, Abuse Or Neglect

If you suspect that a child is at risk or experiencing harm, abuse or neglect but have no 'real' evidence try to give the student an opportunity to talk. The signs you have noticed, such as changes in behaviour, disturbing or bizarre artwork, written stories or poetry that reveal distress or confusion, physical but inconclusive signs, maybe due to a variety of non-abusive or neglectful factors. It is acceptable to ask the student if they are OK or if you can help in any way. Use the Welfare Concern Form to record any early concerns you may have.

If, following the conversation, you remain concerned then you should complete a record of your concern and report this to the Designated Safeguarding Lead as soon as possible. You should also complete the Record of Concern form as soon as possible and no later than the end of the school day.

If A Student Makes A Disclosure To You

If a student talks to you about any risks to their safety or wellbeing, you must let them know that you have to pass this information on and that you are not allowed to keep secrets. The point in the conversation you do this is a matter of professional judgement but do not leave it to the very end of the conversation as the student may feel misled into revealing more information than they otherwise would have. Be careful to say it immediately, however, as the student may think that you don't want to listen to them or be discouraged from disclosing a dangerous matter.

During the conversation, it is important to:

- Allow the student to speak freely
- Remain calm and not overreact
- Give reassuring nods and words of comfort
- Do not be afraid of the silences
- Do not ask investigative questions
- At an appropriate time, tell the student that in order to help them you must pass the information on;
- Do not automatically offer any physical touch as comfort. It may be anything but comforting to a child who has been abused;
- Avoid admonishing the student for not disclosing earlier.
- Tell the student what will happen next. The student may agree to go with you to see the Designated Safeguarding Lead. Otherwise, let them know that someone will come to see them before the end of the day;
- Report verbally to the Designated Safeguarding Lead immediately;

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

- Write up your conversation as soon as possible on the Record of Concern Form and hand it to the Designated Safeguarding Lead in person;
- Seek support if you feel distressed.

The DSL may involve other members of staff as required in an investigation. In the absence of the DSL, incidents must be reported to the Deputy DSL or the Headteacher.

Concerns About Staff

Abuse of Trust

All Maria International staff are aware that inappropriate behaviour towards students is unacceptable and that their conduct towards students must be beyond reproach. Additional all Maria International staff must understand that, under Romanian, UK and EU laws, it is an offence for a person over the age of 18, where that person is in a position of trust, to have a sexual relationship with a person under the age of 18, even if the relationship is consensual. This principle is extended to all students at Maria International and any sexual relationships between staff and students will result in the most severe disciplinary consequences, including the notification of international Child Protection agencies.

If You Have Concerns Regarding A Colleague

Any Maria International staff members who are concerned about the conduct of another Maria International member of staff or a member of its associated agencies must remember that the welfare of the students is paramount. The Maria International Whistleblowing Policy and code enables Maria International staff to raise concerns or allegations in confidence and for sensitive enquiry to take place.

- Concerns of poor practice by colleagues should be reported to the relevant Head of Key Stage
- Concerns of possible child abuse by colleagues should be reported to the Designated Safeguarding Lead, who will inform and liaise with the Headteacher
- An allegation made against the Headteacher, Designated Safeguarding Lead or Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead should be reported to the Designated Governor for Safeguarding Lead

Staff Who Are The Subject Of An Allegation

Allegations made against a member of the Maria International staff have the right for their case to be dealt with discreetly, quickly, fairly and consistently. They also have the right to be kept informed of the progress of the case. Suspension is not mandatory or automatic, however, in some cases suspension may be deemed to be the best way to ensure that they and/or the students are protected

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

Concerns About Students

Children may be being harmed by other children or young people, not just adults. Maria International staff are aware of the harm that bullying can cause and will use the Anti-Bullying Policy and procedures when necessary. However, there may be occasions where a student's behaviour needs to be responded to under Child Protection and Safeguarding procedures rather than Anti-Bullying procedures.

Staff Recruitment and Training

Safer Recruitment

Maria International's safer recruitment procedures are followed for all staff employed by Maria International. All Maria International staff are subject to a rigorous recruitment process to ensure, as best as possible, that they are suitable to work with children.

Maria International's safer recruitment means that all applicants will:

- Provide evidence of their identity
- Provide evidence of their qualifications
- Provide at least two references including their most recent employer, who can comment on the applicant's professional abilities and suitability to work with and around children. These references will be contacted and checked by the Maria International Headteacher and/or Senior Leadership Team
- Be checked through the DBS, Criminal Records Bureau or the equivalent in each country they have lived or worked in, appropriate to their role.
- Be interviewed by the Maria International Headteacher, Owners and/or Senior Leadership team

Full details about Maria International's recruitment procedures can be found in the Maria International Recruitment and Retention Policy.

All new members of staff will undergo an induction with the Designated Safeguarding Lead that includes training and familiarisation with the Maria International Child Protection and Safeguarding policy and procedures and identification of their child protection training needs.

Staff Training

It is important that Maria International staff have sufficient and regular training to recognise the possible signs of abuse and neglect as well as what to do if they have a related concern. New staff, receive this training during their induction. All staff are required to complete any Child Protection and Safeguarding training deemed necessary and/or appropriate by the Headteacher and/or the Designated Safeguarding Lead.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

All staff will receive appropriate and up-to-date Child Protection and Safety refresher training courses every two years, and the Designated Safeguarding Lead, Deputy Designated Safeguarding Lead and Designated Governor for Safeguarding Lead will receive higher-level training at least every two years, including training in inter-agency procedures in Romania.

Extended School and Off-Site Arrangements

Where extended activities are provided and managed by Maria International, the Maria International Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and procedures apply. Any external activity teachers are required to provide a Criminal Background check/clearance before they begin working with our students.

When Maria International students attend off-site activities arranged by Maria International, Maria International staff will ensure that effective child protection arrangements and procedures are in place.

Photography and Images

The photographs and use of imagery that occurs at Maria International by Maria International staff are for understandable and acceptable reasons such as evidence of work to share with parents/guardians. However, to protect students Maria International:

- Has to have permission from the student's parents/guardians, consent is given at enrolment on an 'opt-out' basis
- Will not publish photographs that include students whose parents/guardians have opted-out
- Ensure that the students are appropriately dressed
- Encourage students to tell staff if they are worried about any photographs that are taken of them

E-Safety

All Maria International staff and students must read and sign Maria International's E-Safety and Acceptable Usage Policy and rules. Chat rooms, social media and similar applications, programs and websites are not allowed to be accessed in school. Cyberbullying in any form is treated as seriously as any other form of bullying and is not tolerated at Maria International. Any instances of cyberbullying are managed through our Positive Behaviour Policy and Anti-Bullying Policy.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

Forms of Abuse and Neglect

To ensure that Maria International students are protected from harm, we must make it clear what types of behaviours constitute abuse and neglect. There are many different forms of child abuse but they can all be classified as one or more of:

- Physical abuse
- Sexual abuse
- Psychological/Emotional abuse
- Neglect.

Physical Abuse

Physical child abuse is deliberately causing harm to a child through a physical action. The abuser's aim is to hurt the child and, in extreme circumstances, can lead to the child's death. Physical child abuse could also include the threat of injury to a child.

Physical child abuse can include, but is not limited to:

- Hitting, punching, slapping or kicking a child, including for the purpose of discipline
- Breaking a child's bones
- Deliberately burning or scalding a child
- Deliberately drowning, suffocating or choking a child
- Giving a child harmful drugs or alcohol
- Fabricating or inducing an illness or ill health; such as pretending the child has an illness and giving them drugs or medication they don't need
- Failing to protect a child from physical harm
- Inappropriately restraining or falsely imprisoning a child
- Shaking or hitting a baby. This can cause non-accidental head injuries and, in extreme cases, lead to the child's death.

Sexual Abuse

Childhood sexual abuse occurs when a child is enticed or forced to take part in sexual activities. It is child sexual abuse even if the child isn't aware of the nature of what is happening to them or if they go along with it without protest. Equally, it is child sexual abuse even if there is no threat of violence. It is important to note that child sexual abuse is often perpetrated by someone the child knows and trusts.

Child sexual abuse encompasses a variety of acts that broadly fall under the following two categories:

- When a child is made to take part in sexual activities, both physical and non-physical
- When an individual commits sexual acts upon a child, whether forcefully or otherwise

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

The following is a list of what constitutes child abuse of a sexual nature:

- Grooming a child for future sexual abuse, including via the internet
- Discussing sexually explicit topics with a child
- 'Sexting' a child, or coercing a child to send inappropriate images of themselves
- Taking inappropriate photographs or videos of a child
- Showing sexually-explicit images or videos to a child
- Physical contact, such as touching a child inappropriately
- An adult exposing themselves to a child
- Forcing, coercing, or grooming a child to engage in sexual behaviour like kissing and all forms of intercourse
- Using young people under the age of 18 in prostitution
- Female Genital mutilation

Psychological/Emotional Abuse

Emotional child abuse, or psychological child abuse, covers any abuse that negatively affects the child's emotional and social development. Emotional child abuse can have a long-lasting impact on the child's wellbeing. It can affect how they feel about themselves, how they fit in with friends and skew their perspective on what is normal in relationships.

It's important to note that all forms of child abuse involve emotional abuse on some level.

Emotional abuse can take the form of:

- Bullying a child, including cyberbullying
- Constant or unjust punishment
- Unnecessary or unrelenting criticism
- Humiliation or telling a child they are worthless
- Denying a child love and affection
- Terrorising a child
- Limiting of the child's exploration and learning
- Not giving a child opportunity to express their views
- Preventing a child from taking part in normal social interaction
- Letting a child see or hear the ill-treatment of someone else. This might often be the case in a domestic violence situation
- Being complicit when you see a child being mistreated

Neglect

Child neglect occurs when an adult with responsibility over a child fails to meet their basic needs over an ongoing period. For example, the child might be left hungry, unwashed or uncared for.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

Children rely on adults to look after them, and if their physical or psychological needs are not being fulfilled, it can be damaging to the child's development, and their emotional and physical wellbeing.

It is frequently the case that a child who has been subject to neglect often undergoes other forms of abuse as well. Neglect can be intentional or unintentional, and both parents can be guilty of neglecting their child.

Some forms of child neglect include, but are not limited to:

- Neglect during pregnancy due to mother's substance abuse or violence towards the mother during pregnancy
- Failure to provide food, shelter, clothing or warmth, including throwing a young person out of the family home
- Failure to seek or follow medical care for the child, including dental treatment
- Failure to protect a child from physical or emotional harm or danger
- Abandoning a child
- Failure to provide appropriate supervision of a child, including making inadequate childcare arrangements
- Unwillingness or inability to provide appropriate care for a child

Specific Forms Of Abuse and Neglect

Peer on Peer Abuse

Peer on Peer Abuse is likely to include, but is not limited to:

- bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying);
- abuse in personal relationships between peers;
- physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element that facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse);
- sexual violence, such as rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault; (this may include an online element which facilitates threatens and/or encourages sexual violence);
- sexual harassment, such as sexual comments, remarks, jokes and online sexual harassment, which may be standalone or part of a broader pattern of abuse causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party;
- consensual and non-consensual sharing of nudes and semi-nude images and or videos (also known as sexting or youth produced sexual imagery);

- upskirting, which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress, or alarm
- initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

Whole-School Approach To Anti-Peer On Peer Abuse

All Maria International staff should be aware that children can abuse other children (often referred to as peer-on-peer abuse). It can happen both inside and outside of school and online. It is important that all Maria International staff recognise the indicators and signs of peer-on-peer abuse and know how to identify it and respond to reports.

Maria International takes all cases of peer-on-peer abuse seriously and it is not tolerated at Maria International. Maria International staff are required to document and report any incidences of peer-on-peer abuse to the Designated Safeguarding Lead, following the 'Reporting Abuse' structure detailed in this policy. Downplaying certain behaviours, for example dismissing sexual harassment as "just banter", "just having a laugh", "part of growing up" or "boys being boys" can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviours, an unsafe environment for children and in worst-case scenarios a culture that normalises abuse leading to children accepting it as normal and not coming forward to report it.

Maria International is aware that peer-on-peer abuse may be taking place in school, even if it is not reported. It is important, therefore, that all Maria International staff and the Maria International community is aware of and can recognise the signs of peer-on-peer abuse.

Online Safety and Peer-On-Peer Abuse

It is important that all Maria International staff and those in the Maria International community are aware that peer on peer abuse can often take place using social media. Therefore, Maria International staff must adhere to the rules on mobile phone use in school which are stated in the E-Safety and Acceptable Usage Policy and must bring to the attention of the Designated Safeguarding Lead as well as the Headteacher any unauthorised mobile phone use in school as soon as it occurs.

If a student reports peer on peer abuse which is being conducted via social media but outside of school hours this will be dealt with as a safeguarding issue and parents will be informed. It is important that parents are aware of the risks of internet use and to facilitate this a copy of the school's E-Safety and Acceptable Usage Policy will be shared with parents at the beginning of the year and is available on the school website and a physical copy is available upon request.

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

It is important to us at Maria International that our students are aware of the support that is available if they are experiencing peer on peer abuse. As part of the PSHE programme and anti-bullying week, students should be made aware of what to do if they experience this, or any type of abuse, they should also be aware of what constitutes peer on peer abuse and that Maria International has a zero-tolerance policy towards this type of behaviour.

Serious Violence

All Maria International staff are expected to be aware of the indicators that can signal that a child is at risk from or is involved with serious violent crimes. These may include increased absence from school, a change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups, a significant decline in performance, signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing, or signs of assault or unexplained injuries.

Unexplained gifts or new possessions could also indicate that children have been approached by, or are involved with, individuals associated with criminal networks or gangs and may be at risk of criminal exploitation.

Recognising Abuse In Students With SEND

Additional barriers can exist when recognising abuse and neglect in this group of children.

These can include:

- assumptions that indicators of possible abuse such as behaviour, mood and injury relate to the child's disability without further exploration;
- being more prone to peer group isolation than other children;
- the potential for children with SEN and disabilities being disproportionately impacted by behaviours such as bullying, without outwardly showing any signs;
- communication barriers and difficulties in overcoming these barriers.

Staff should be extra vigilant when working with young people with special educational needs and disabilities.

The DSL should liaise regularly with the Headteacher to help in maintaining a culture of vigilance and by being alert to any relevant new information or concerns.

A one size fits all approach may not be appropriate for all children, and a more personalised or contextualised approach for more vulnerable children, victims of abuse and some SEND children might be needed.

Impact Of Abuse

Childhood maltreatment can be linked to later physical, psychological, and behavioural consequences as well as costs to society as a whole. These consequences may be independent of each other, but they also may be interrelated. For example, abuse or neglect may stunt the physical development of the child's brain and lead to psychological problems, such as low self-esteem, which would later lead to high-risk behaviours, such as substance use.

The outcomes for each child may vary widely and are affected by a combination of factors, including the child's age and developmental status when the maltreatment occurred; the type, frequency, duration, and severity of the maltreatment; and the relationship between the child and the perpetrator.

Additionally, children who experience maltreatment often are affected by other adverse experiences (e.g., parental substance use, domestic violence, poverty), which can make it difficult to separate the unique effects of maltreatment (Rosen, Handley, Cicchetti, & Rogosch, 2018).

Children Who May Be Particularly Vulnerable To Abuse and Neglect

Some children may have an increased risk of abuse and it is important to understand that this increase in risk is due more to societal attitudes and assumptions, and Child Protection procedures that fail to acknowledge children's diverse circumstances, rather than the individual child's personality, impairment or circumstances.

Many factors can contribute to an increase in risk, including prejudice and discrimination, isolation, social exclusion, communication issues and a reluctance, on the part of some adults to accept that abuse can occur.

To ensure that all of our students at Maria International receive equal protection, we will give special consideration to defined classes of individuals. Staff should be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for children who are:

- Disabled or have special educational needs;
- Missing school regularly;
- Living in challenging family circumstances or transient lifestyles (in foster care/temporary accommodation, domestic abuse, mental health problems etc);
- Misuse drugs or alcohol, or are affected by parental substance misuse;
- Asylum seekers;
- Vulnerable to being bullied, or engaging in bullying;
- Vulnerable to discrimination and maltreatment on the grounds of race, ethnicity, religion or sexuality;

- At the risk of prostitution, modern slavery, exploitation, radicalisation or trafficking;
- Do not have English as a first language

Indicators of Abuse

There can be physical signs that define some types of abuse, for example, bruising, bleeding or broken bones resulting from physical or sexual abuse, or injuries sustained while a child has been inadequately supervised.

The identification of physical signs is complicated, as children may go to great lengths to hide injuries, often because they are ashamed or embarrassed, or their abuser has threatened further violence or trauma if they 'tell'. It is also quite difficult for anyone without medical training to categorise injuries into accidental or deliberate with any degree of certainty. For these reasons, it is vital that staff are also aware of the range of behavioural indicators of abuse and report any concerns to the designated person.

It is important for all Maria International staff to remember that whilst it is their responsibility to report their concerns, it is not their responsibility to investigate or decide whether a child has or is being abused.

A child who is being abused or neglected may show the following signs:

- Often have bruises, bleeding, burns, fractures, or other injuries
- Show signs of pain or discomfort
- Keep their arms and legs covered even in hot weather
- Be concerned about changing clothes in front of others for PE or swimming
- Look unkempt and uncared for
- Change their eating habits
- Have difficulty in making and maintaining friendships
- Appear fearful
- Be reckless in regards to their safety and/or the safety of others
- Self-harm
- Frequently miss school or arrive late
- Show signs of not wanting to go home
- Display a change in regular behaviour, from quiet to outspoken and aggressive, or the reverse, outgoing to withdrawn
- Challenge authority
- Become disinterested in their schoolwork
- Be constantly tired or preoccupied
- Be wary of physical contact
- Be involved in, or particularly knowledgeable about, drugs, alcohol or weapons

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

- Display sexual knowledge or behaviour that is not normally expected for their age

Individual indicators will rarely provide conclusive evidence of abuse. They should be viewed as part of a bigger picture, and each piece of information will help the Designated Safeguarding Lead and Headteacher decide how to proceed. It is most important that you report your concerns – you do not need ‘absolute proof’ that the child is at risk.

Taking Action

First Steps

If you have concerns about a Child Protection issue or if a child makes a disclosure then Maria International staff should:

- Treat the student with care and sensitivity
- Inform the student that you have to pass any information on and that you are not allowed to keep secrets
- Inform the Designated Safeguarding Lead as soon as possible
- Provide the Designated Safeguarding Lead with a completed Welfare Concern Form or Record of Concern Form by the end of the school day
- Only share information with others on a need-to-know basis
- Seek support if they are distressed

Notifying Parents

Maria International will usually seek to discuss any matters or concerns regarding a student with their parents/guardians. When this occurs, it is to be handled sensitively and the Designated Safeguarding Lead will make contact with the parents/guardians in the event of a concern, suspicion or disclosure of abuses and/or neglect.

However, if after discussion with the Headteacher, the Designated Safeguarding Lead believes that notifying the parents/guardians could further increase the risk to the child or make the problem worse, then advice will be sought from an external statutory agency or Romanian Child Protection Services/Agencies.

Notifying Children’s Social Care and Other Child Protection Agencies

Maria International’s Designated Safeguarding Lead will make a referral to Children’s Social Care if it is believed that a student is suffering or is at risk of suffering significant harm. The student (subject to their age and understanding) and the parents will be told that a referral is being made, unless to do so would increase the risk to the child.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

In order to ensure a student's safety in an emergency, the Designated Safeguarding Lead may also share information directly with the police or other Child Protection services.

Confidentiality and Sharing of Information

All Maria International staff must understand that Child Protection issues warrant the highest levels of confidentiality, not only out of respect for the student and staff involved but also to ensure that being released into the public domain does not compromise evidence.

Staff should only discuss concerns with the DSL, or with the Headteacher if the Designated Safeguarding Lead is the subject of the concern. That member of staff will then decide who else needs to have the information and they will share that information on a need-to-know basis.

Maria International's policy on confidentiality and information-sharing is shared with parents each year as part of the annual Terms & Conditions.

Storing Child Protection Information

Child Protection information is stored separately from a student's general school file and the school file will be 'flagged' to indicate that separate information is held. The Child Protection information is handled and stored in line with the UK's Data Protection Act (1998) and relevant Romanian and EU Laws.

Any data that is stored should be:

- Adequate
- Relevant
- Not-excessive
- Accurate
- Processed for limited purposes
- Processed in accordance with the subject's rights
- Kept no longer than necessary
- Kept securely

Written information, such as Record of Concern Forms and minutes of discussions are stored in a locked resource. Any electronic information should be password protected and only made available to relevant individuals. Furthermore, to prevent unauthorised access to sensitive information, electronic information should not be stored on laptop computers which, by the nature of their portability, could be lost or stolen. If it is necessary to store Child Protection information on portable media, such as a backup device, these items should also be kept in locked storage.

Access To Child Protection Information

Child Protection records are exempt from the disclosure provisions of the Data Protection Act; this means that students and parents/guardians do not have an automatic right to view them.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

If any Maria International staff receives a request from a student or parent to see Child Protection records, they must refer the request to the Headteacher.

Staff Reporting Directly To Child Protection Agencies

Maria International staff should follow the reporting procedures to the Designated Safeguarding Lead outlined in this policy. The Designated Safeguarding Lead is the person to report child protection and safeguarding concerns to outside agencies, after consultation with the Headteacher.

Maria International staff may only share information with an outside agency, child protection agency or the police if:

- The situation is an emergency
- The Designated Safeguarding Lead, Deputy Safeguarding Lead and Headteacher are all unavailable
- Convinced that a direct report to these agencies is the only way to ensure the child's safety and welfare.
- The situation directly involves the Designated Safeguarding Lead, Headteacher and Designated Governor for Safeguarding Lead

Whistleblowing Code For Issues Relating To Children and Young People

Purpose Of This Code

Maria International adheres to whistle-blowing procedures that help enable staff to raise concerns relating to any of the following:

- Crimes
- Miscarriage of Justice
- Illegal Acts
- Health and Safety Violations
- Environmental or Property Damage
- Unauthorised Use of Funds
- Concealing or Attempting to Conceal Any of the Above

When To Use This Code

Whistleblowing procedures can be followed by any Maria International staff member who believes they have reason to suspect that the conduct of an employee towards a student is inappropriate or is involved or suspected to be involved in any of the activities listed above.

Reasons For Whistleblowing

Maria International staff must take responsibility for ensuring that students are treated safely and fairly. If poor practice is allowed to continue it could result in escalation with serious unforeseen consequences.

Maria International, therefore, sees whistleblowing as another way to ensure the safety and protection of its students and community. Whistleblowing also helps to deter suggestions that another individual has been involved with or colluded in the poor practice that they knew was occurring but did not report.

Whistleblowing can also aid the subject of the complaint or concern as their conduct could be the result of inexperience, lack of training or ignorance which can be directly addressed by the Maria International Leadership team.

Maria International staff who deliberately fail a student and show no remorse or desire to improve have to have their conduct confronted for the sake of the Maria International students and reputation.

Barriers To Whistleblowing

An individual may worry that they have insufficient evidence to raise a concern, that they will set

Maria International School of Bucharest

in train an unstoppable chain of events; that there will be adverse repercussions for their career, that they may suffer harassment or victimisation, or that their suspicion or concern might be totally misplaced. These concerns are entirely understandable, but each individual can be reassured that the whistle-blowing procedures take account of and address these fears.

One useful way to decide whether the concern should be reported is to write down what has been observed or heard to cause concern and then consider whether you would want the conduct of this member of staff to continue unchecked if your own child or another young family member, was involved.

Maria International will fully support any whistleblower and do all it can to protect them from any harassment or adverse repercussions that may arise from whistleblowing.

No action will be taken against a member of staff who raises a genuine concern that proves to be unfounded. However, allegations that prove to be deliberately fabricated or malicious will be severely dealt with through staff disciplinary procedures.

Confidentiality and Anonymity

All concerns are treated in confidence and, as far as possible, the identity of the 'whistle-blower' will not be revealed. However, absolute confidentiality cannot be guaranteed (if, for instance, as a result of the investigation the whistle-blower is required to provide a witness statement or attend a court hearing).

Individuals may, if they wish, raise their concern anonymously. However, anonymous complaints may not be followed up as the Maria International's leadership team would have to consider whether the credibility or seriousness of the concern warrants investigation if the source - and therefore key evidence - is not readily available.

Whistleblowing Process and Procedures

Raising The Concern

- Concerns should be raised directly with the Headteacher, either verbally or in writing
- If the Headteacher is the subject of the concern, the concern should be raised in writing with the Maria International Owners/Governors.
- A supportive friend or colleague may accompany the whistle-blower to meet with the Headteacher if desired.
- The Headteacher will clarify and record issues of and requests for confidentiality and the protection of the whistle-blower's identity.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

- The Headteacher will outline any proposed actions to be taken and set a date for a follow-up meeting.

Investigation

- The Headteacher will make enquiries to establish the facts of the matter and whether poor practice or inappropriate conduct has occurred.
- Members of the school community may be asked to provide information or advice.
- Specific advice, e.g. legal guidance, may be sought internally (e.g. from Human Resources) or from outside (e.g. Children's Social Care).

Recordkeeping and Feedback

- A written record of the conduct, established facts and outcome of the inquiry will be kept.
- The whistleblower will be kept informed of the progress of the inquiry.
- Timescales will depend on the complexity of the initial inquiry, but the case should not be allowed to stall.
- Initial feedback will be given to the whistle-blower within 10 working days.
- The timescale for any subsequent feedback will then be agreed

Outcome

The outcome of the inquiry will be one of the following:

- No poor practice or wrongdoing is established and the case is closed;
- The concern has some substance and the subject of the concern will receive advice and support from the Headteacher and Maria International leadership team to improve practice;
- Poor practice or wrongdoing is established and disciplinary proceedings are initiated.
- The concern is more serious and an investigation is initiated. This investigation may involve Children's Social Care or the police.
- If at any stage in the process, there is reason to believe that a child is at risk of significant harm, Children's Social Care will be immediately involved.

Further Action

If an individual has raised a concern but is dissatisfied with the way it has been managed or with the outcome, Maria International's Concerns and Complaints Policy and procedures should be followed. The individual may also contact the Maria International Owners/Governors for advice. The individual may also seek guidance from a professional association, a solicitor, the police, or a Children's Social Care organisation.
