E-Safety Principles

To ensure the safety and protection of all associated with Maria International, it is important to follow the E-safety principles outlined below, whether the technology and IT use it as school, home, or other off-site venues.

The principles are:

- Remember, when using the internet that not everything you read or see is always accurate. If there are any doubts or concerns regarding the validity of something students have read or seen online, they should check with their parents/guardians and relevant school teacher.
- The sharing of personal information should be minimal. Never share passwords or sensitive data through the use of online media. Students should try to ensure any personal information remains private when using online media, even when they are talking to friends or family.
- There should be no sharing of text, videos, images, or sound recordings that could cause the subject of the resource to feel upset, embarrassed, or bullied. Maria International has a zero-tolerance approach to all forms of bullying, this includes cyberbullying.
- Keep in mind that all social media applications and websites have a minimum age restriction and that for our students at Maria International, at the time of writing, is above our students' current age.

Students as Digital Citizens

At Maria International, we make it possible for students to learn what it means to be a digital citizen.

As a school we define digital citizens, using the definition provided by Karen Mossberger, the author of Digital Citizenship: The Internet, Society, and Participation, which states that digital citizens are those who use the internet regularly and effectively and those who use it to engage in society, politics, and government in a legal, safe, and responsible manner.

Maria International commits to:

1. Ensuring all students can have a safe environment to learn online in school
2. Raise awareness of social media and other technology-related issues that will affect our students. Teaching and informing students to deal with these and enable them to make good choices when using social media and technology.
3. Use technology and related media in a way that enhances their learning and user experience. We do not use this as a substitute for good teaching and learning.

We provide opportunities for students to develop these skills and become a good digital citizens through:

1. IT topic lessons
2. Assemblies
3. PSHE
4. E-Safety posters around school
5. Letters/articles to parents and guardians
6. International Days (Anti-bullying week etc)
7. Webinars for parents and guardians
8. Guidelines for the Use of Social Media

These technologies include (but are not limited to) Chromebooks, email, the internet and other online resources. However, this acceptable use also extends to the use of technology and related media outside of school, to ensure the safety and protection of the entire school community of Maria International.

As a school, we also want to limit the opportunities for cyberbullying and other abuse risks that staff and students could face when using the internet, social media and other media. However, we can not ensure that these unfortunate circumstances will never occur, as the internet has a dynamic, ever-changing nature. Therefore, we rely on constant cooperation, training and vigilance from the entire school community to ensure that the online presence for staff, students and parents/guardians is safe and fair.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

The acceptable use also highlights the personal rights and responsibilities of all users of technology associated with Maria International, regardless of the media being used and the purpose it is being used for.

As a member of the Maria International community, it is every staff and student's responsibility to report any misuse of the Maria International Internet network, technology and resources to a member of the Maria International staff. This will then proceed along with our behaviour management structure to the relevant staff member, who will deal with the offence using our positive behaviour management policy. ## Mobile and Handheld Technologies

At Maria International, we believe that mobile and handheld technologies can be used in partnership with other technologies and media to help enhance teaching and learning. We, therefore, aim to educate the students on the appropriate and effective use of these devices through teaching and learning throughout the curriculum. However, we only use these devices in school as part of our aim to enhance the learning experience, not for social interaction. This procedure is also expected of staff and other members of the community who enter the school, with some modification.

If a child needs to be contacted by parents or guardians, we expect that the communication is delivered through the office, who will then pass the messages on to the relevant member of staff and student, instead of ringing the child directly as this can cause disruptions to teaching and learning. If a phone is seen out during lessons or without permission from the teacher then the phone will be confiscated and taken to the office for collection at the end of the day. If the phone is confiscated repeatedly the family will be asked to collect the phone and to not allow the student to bring it to school.

Outlined below are the expectations of the Maria International community regarding these aspects of mobile and handheld technologies.

Communication

- Mobile phones and devices must be off or on silent mode for the duration of the school day
- Students can not use their mobile phones or devices for the sending or receiving of text messages or phone calls during the school day
- If there is an urgent need for contact to be made from parents/guardians to a student during the school day, then this must be made through the school office, not to the child directly
- Staff can not use their phones whilst on duty or in lessons (except for the use of checking the time or urgent communication for student/staff welfare or photographing good learning). Using phones at other times must be discrete and not interfere with the teaching and learning of others in the school.
- Using phones and other devices is allowed for students in the classroom for educational purposes only, and only with the express permission of the classroom teacher at the time of use.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

Photos, Videos and Audio Recordings

- Using mobile phones and other handheld devices to take pictures, videos and/or audio recordings of staff, students or visitors is prohibited unless there has been permission given by the subject(s) or parents/guardians of the subject(s) in the picture or recording.
- Images, videos and/or audio recordings can not be published on public or private websites/forums or transferred to another individual without consent from the management team at Maria International
- Images, videos, and audio recordings that contain students can not be stored on a personal device. They must be transferred to a school account by the end of the school day.
- Using digital equipment to take photos or videos in EYFS is not allowed unless the express permission of the Principal or other authorised staff member has been given

Music Players, Headphones and Other Audio Equipment

- There should be no headphones or similar equipment used in school unless it is part of a teaching and learning activity and the classroom teacher has given permission.
- There should be no use of headphones in public areas, hallways or outdoors by anyone in the school
- Using music and videos should be checked and reviewed by the classroom teacher to ensure age and vulnerability appropriateness.

Social Media

Using social media has become a regularly used way of communication and engagement in society. We at Maria International use social media for these purposes too, but only for the enhancement of teaching and learning and the relaying of important information (alongside emails and letters). Whilst we encourage the use of social media for the purposes stated, it is integral that the whole Maria International community uses social media effectively, responsibly and safely.

Using social media and its associated applications has implications for Maria International's school's duty for the safety and welfare of staff and students.

Definition of Social Media

At Maria International, we define social media as being any website, program or application that allows the sharing of communication, information, ideas and other forms of expression by online means. This includes (but is not limited to) blogs, Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp, Snapchat, Twitter, Messenger, YouTube, discord, twitch etc, and also includes comment and content streams on public websites like newspapers and journals.

Maria International School of Bucharest

Resilience Respect Compassion Integrity Responsibility

One of these that we regularly use at Maria International is Google Classroom, to share assignments, lessons and resources with students and parents/guardians. It is impossible to cover every social media outlet that is available or being created and cover every eventuality that could occur through the use of these websites, programs etc, we therefore at Maria International expect that the procedures, expectations and guidelines outlined in the acceptable use and e-safety policies to be followed regardless of the media and activity being used.

As well as the description provided above, the term 'social media' for this policy also includes the use of cameras, phones, tablets, laptops and other devices to share or communicate.

Principles

It is the responsibility of all those associated with Maria International to expect that anything they post or share online is in the public domain, even under the strictest privacy settings, and is, therefore, a reflection of Maria International. Further, once something has entered the public domain, it is impossible to take it down or erase it, it is also easy for the content to be 'shared', redistributed and edited so there should be this assumption made when posting anything online.

All individuals are held responsible for the content they post and share online as well as other actions and behaviour when using social media and should therefore avoid engaging in anything that could be misinterpreted by others and put them in a position where there is a conflict between Maria International, its staff, students or other associated parties and the individuals' personal life. Staff actions should not bring Maria International's reputation into disrepute.

Within this policy, there is a distinction made between the personal use of social media and the school/educational use of social media.

Use of Social Media

Email and Mobile Phones

All communication between staff and other members of the school community regarding official school business will only be performed using the authorised school accounts.

Staff and members of the school community need to be aware and respectful of personal and professional lives and the need to maintain boundaries.

Staff will not use personal email accounts or personal phone numbers to contact students, and there should be no expectation that this would occur. With external school trips, staff will make it clear as part of risk assessments and official school communications that student phone numbers are needed. However, these contact details are deleted once they have completed the school trip.

We also expect the Maria International community to respect the time and boundaries of our staff here at the school. Staff should only be communicated with during their school working hours (08:00-17:00) and the correspondence should be kept respectful and in line with our school values and policies. If a member of staff is contacted after their working hours, they are under no obligation to respond immediately. Staff will ensure they respond within 72 hours. We ensure that this expectation is the same from staff. There is an allowed exception with email communication in the cases of emergencies or other important news regarding the opening and closing of the school.

Social Media and Networking

Using social media and networking programs for personal use is prohibited during school hours for staff and students unless the Maria International management team has granted permission.

All associated with Maria International must be conscious of the personal and professional boundaries of others, including the sharing, posting and communication through social media. Using school identification, images, contact details, logos and other Maria International identifications and materials is not to be used on personal or published websites and platforms without the permission of the Owners or Maria International leadership team.

It is essential that all those associated with Maria International consider the reputation of themselves and Maria International school when communicating, commenting, posting or sharing using these mediums. Unless being relayed through official Maria International channels and guidance, there should be no discussion, posts or comments regarding specific matters involving the school and/or members of the Maria International school community.

At Maria International, we take data privacy, protection and confidentiality seriously and that is an expectation we carry over to all those associated with Maria International. We strongly advise the entire Maria International community to check and ensure all of their privacy settings are set to an appropriately high standard on all social media platforms to avoid being put in a position that could compromise our high standards and expectations of Maria International.

Anyone associated with Maria International should share no confidential information concerning the operations, staff, students, parents/guardians and other associated agencies of Maria International. This expectation continues after someone has left the Maria International school community.

Staff and other parents/guardians or outside agencies associated with Maria International should establish, or seek to establish, social contact via social media or other communication technologies with Maria International students. There should never be an attempt to 'friend', 'add', 'follow' or any other terms associated with social media contact with current Maria International or an ex-student of Maria International eighteen years of age or younger. Accessing a student's social media page should only be allowed under agreed circumstances after discussion and agreement with the principal, student(s), and parents/guardians involved.

If any member of the Maria International community notices any inappropriate communication or contact involving any student in any social media platform, they must immediately report to the Maria International leadership team, especially the Head Teacher.

Inappropriate communication can include (but is not limited to):

- Personal communication between staff and student(s)
- Using social media and its associated media to attack, insult, abuse, bully, defame or otherwise make negative, offensive or derogatory comments about anyone in the Maria International community or associated agencies/organisations
- The browsing, downloading, uploading, sharing and distribution of material that could be inappropriate, offensive, illegal, defamatory, discriminatory or dangerous.

School Sanctioned Use of Social Media

Maria International has outlined and provided education about the school-sanctioned use of social media as part of our Digital Citizenship section. However, there are many other legitimate uses of social media within the school curriculum and to support, enhance and further teaching and learning at Maria International. Staff who wish to use social media for these purposes should also refer to the following links and resources to promote the safe and acceptable use of social media in schools:

- <https://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/>

This is not an exhaustive list and members of Maria International should share relevant and appropriate links and resources to further inform and enhance the use of social media at Maria International about online safety and safeguarding.

All proposals for the use of social media and other social networking applications (not already being used by Maria International) whether they would be hosted by the school or an external third party, must be approved by the Maria International leadership team, including the Head Teacher.

Using social media and social networking applications which are not related to any school services (such as contributions to informative sites by a professional body or association) do not need to be approved by the Maria International leadership team and Head Teacher but must still comply with the relevant Maria International standards and policies.

Members of the Maria International community must adhere to the guidelines, procedures and policies which apply to all uses of social media and social networking applications. This includes any school representatives and includes any public forum applications (such as discussion boards, forums) and private applications (such as private blogs) regardless of whether they are hosted by Maria International or an external third party.

If staff or another member of the Maria International community establishes a social media site or account for educational purposes, it should be kept completely separate from their personal accounts and should only be linked using the official school accounts they have been given. Any site or account should link to the E-Safety and Acceptable Usage policy on the Maria International school website, follow the guidance set out in the policy and ensure any links to external sites are vetted and checked for age, ability and vulnerability appropriateness and safety. All content distributed through the site and/or account should be kept completely professional and should reflect positively on Maria International. Any use of photographs, videos or audio recordings should not identify by name any students, staff or other members of the Maria International community, or any other personal identifying information, without express permission beforehand from the subject.
